The image of Queen Victoria seared into popular culture is one of a dour older woman, swathed in black, looking as if she never cracked a smile.

So when Jenna Coleman (Doctor Who), a beautiful slip of a woman, portrays her as joyful, it’s jolting. At age 18 — still known as Alexandrina, and playing with dolls—she is awakened one morning and informed she is now queen of England.

Welcome to the world of Victoria, a new seven-part Masterpiece miniseries premiering this month on NJTV. Boasting grand sets, lush countryside, and political intrigue, the lavish series is one of the highlights of our popular Wednesday night drama line-up.

Following Queen Victoria from her accession to the throne in 1837, through her education in politics, courtship, marriage, and epic 63-year reign, Victoria paints a portrait of a monarch who was raised to be the pawn of her powerful elders, but who wasted no time in showing the empire who was in charge.

The stellar cast includes Rufus Sewell (The Man in the High Castle) as Lord Melbourne, the British prime minister who was Victoria’s father figure and intimate friend; Tom Hughes (Dancing on the Edge) as the handsome Prince Albert, who stole Victoria’s heart; and Alex Jennings (Churchill’s Secret) as Leopold I, King of Belgium, Victoria and Albert’s uncle, who dreamed of a dynasty for his obscure royal line.
